...VADA CITY: Congressman Clair Engle was ...st of honor and speaker at a dinner given by the ... County Employers Council Tuesday night at ...tional Hotel. Dr. Harry N. March, chairman of ...uncil, presided. Thomas J. Glisan, secretary, ...e minutes of the previous meeting.

...gle's topic was the Taft-Hartley bill, for which ...d, and whcih he holds a sound piece of legisla...

...e bill, he said, was extremely controversial, and ...en damned by unions as a "slave-labor" bill. ...nt labor chieftains, said Engle, had in the last ...ears repeatedly tied the nation's economy in

He outlined unfair practices which the act outlawed. These included jurisdictional strikes, secondary boycotts, closed shop, contributions by unions to political campaign funds, as well as others.

Each point was illustrated by a striking example of the results of these inequalities. Engle said that, while union officials were frequently violently against the act, he had had difficulty in pinning down individual union leaders as to the exact basis of their objection.

The National Labor Relations Board, he said, had been a very poor outfit. The employers considered that it was loaded against them, and the American Federation of Labor maintained that it was consistently injurious to them. Thus, Engle related, the board had alienated about three-quarters of the people it was supposed to serve.

Engle, at the conclusion of his 60 minute address, answered pertinent questions asked by C. G. Dana, Roy Tremeroux, Sr., Robert T. Ingram and Wayne Leitzell.

About 70 members of the Nevada County Employers Council, friends and guests attended the meeting. Engle was heartily applauded at the conclusion of his address.

COMMITTEE FOR FOOD TRAIN COLLECTS 3 TON

GRASS VALLEY: The committee in charge of gathering Grass Valley and Nevada City contributions for the Friendship Train yesterday completed packing and repacking rice flour, dried peas and beans, and canned milk for delivery in Sacramento.

The committee consisting of William French, county chairman; Ed. Steele, Grass Valley; and Charles Hilpert, Nevada City, aided by Rev. Frank Buck, rector of the Emmanuel Episcopal church; William W. Esterly, real estate broker; and others completed their task in the Episcopal Parish Hall.

French estimated that three tons of food stuffs had been collected for the hungry peoples of Europe.

SURPRISES AT COUNCIL: TAYLOR A MEMBER AND CRAMPTON BRINGS B.O.D.

NEVADA CITY: Frank Crampton, ebullient government engineer and Piety Hill property owner, introduced a new and tantalizing factor into the Ronnigen property site-sewage disposal plant controversy. Crampton's factor was a mysterious "B.OD." which he defined, readily, as biological oxygen demand, in response to a query from City Councilman Thomas H. Taylor.

(Editor's Note: Thomas H. Taylor was appointed by the city council to fill the seat vacated by the resignation of Irvine Long who has moved to another city. Date of the appointment was October 24th, and swearing-in was postponed to last night, because of Taylor's absence from the city.)

Worried Jordan Street residents, who appeared before the city officials before Crampton's interview, again constituted a major interest at the meeting.

Their fears were alleviated by word from Mayor Irvine Seaman that a new development which might mean location of the plant farther down the stream had arisen and was being thoroughly investigated. The implication was that it was the desire of the council to take maximum precautions against the possibility of any present or future nuisance being created.

Thomas Kelly, retired actor ...nd resident of the disputed Jor...dan street area, was spokesman ...or the first Piety Hill delega...tion. He had read a textbook on ...sewage disposal plants.

Kelly said that the stringency ...f disinfection to be carried out ...personally by the superintendent ...of the sewage plant required ...well-nigh super-human precaution. He also indicated that he, ...n a personal exploration tour had ...located several excellent sites for ...the sewage disposal plant further ...down the stream, about 1000 ...yards.

Two residents of the area between Long Street and Lower Sacramento street, appeared and complained that their only means of exit and egress was a nearly impassable road that was beating their automobile to pieces.

Superintendent of Streets Herbert S. Hallet stated that he thought the road could be rendered temporarily passable within a short time and without exorbitant cost.

Harry F. (Si) Sofge, speaking in behalf of the Chamber of Commerce, asked for and received permission to place a sign at the Plaza, off the roads and between the two bridges, stating that this town was Nevada City, together with pertinent facts including the altitude and population.

Frederick Bush, official weatherman and park caretaker, reported that Seaman's Hall was attaining maximum use. He suggested that fuel gas be installed for the accommodation of organizations using the facilities of the hall.

Crampton, in his interview with the board, called attention to the fact that he had been U. S. government engineer in sanitary matters for United States installations in Central and South America. He offered the council full benefit of his experiences, in designing the sewage disposal plant.

Crampton maintained that there were grave errors in the existing plan, and stated that proper deference had not been paid to the ultimately important factor B.O.D. (Biological Oxygen Demand). He also called attention to the variance between the capacity of the plant (to take care of sewage for a city of 5,000) and the existing population of about 3500. He predicted three full time men would be required to operate the unit.

His comments were taken under advisement by the council members, who indicated that their principal concern at present was with the new possibility, details of which they stated were not yet ready to be made public.

City Clerk George Humphrey Calanan commented that construction of the plant might be "quite a while in the future." Mayor Irvine Seaman characterized the whole plan as being "still in the embryo stage."

LOCAL MERCHANTS WILL OFFER BARGAINS, FOCUS ATTENTION ON HOME-TOWN SHOPPING

NEVADA CITY: Under the sponorship of the Chamber of Commerce, local merchants have declared the week of November 10 to 15 as Shop-At-Home Week.

According to President George C. Hansen, purpose of the week-long promotion is to draw attention to the excellence and variety of the wares of local retail establishments.

The Shop at Home drive will be implemented by promotional campaigns in local newspapers and the radio station.

Hansen said that he would urge businessmen to offer special values in their advertising for this week.

The idea was originated by Chamber of Commerce Secretary Harry Ferdinand (Si) Sofge.

The supervisors indicated that they regarded prices as too high and thought by waiting a little longer prices might be somewhat reduced. They found that some of the sites offered are too far from the city's business section.

The committee was given authority to continue negotiations for a suitable site.

Mrs. Lorrin Wasley and Mrs. Clovis McGuire were hostesses at the home of the bride at the wedding reception.

The bride is a graduate of the Grass Valley high school, class of 1946. She is employed in a local music store. Her husband is a naval war veteran, having served in the Pacific. He graduated from the high school in 1945. He is employed by the Standard Oil Company. The young couple will live in this city.

TENNIS GIVES CHAMBER BOTH SIDES OF SCHOOL UNIFICATION

GRASS VALLEY: Principal speaker at the forum meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday at the Bret Harte Hotel was Gilbert Tennis, who reviewed both sides of the issue of unification of school districts.

Tennis said that the main change involved would be the consolidation of all rural school districts. Some people in rural areas, he continued, felt that their school represented their only close contact with their government, and that, to them, it was democracy in action.

On November 18, the people will be called to vote yes or no on whether or not they want unification of school districts.

A correlary of the new system would be centralization of school authority. A possible advantage, Tennis said, would be that teachers in rural schools would receive the same wage as town instructors, thus insure first-class instruction there.

Small schools where distraught teachers attempted to teach five or six grades in one room, would be consolidated with neighboring institutions in order to provide more efficient instruction.

A union high school between Nevada City and Grass Valley would be a relatively simple project under the new system, Tennis said, because the communities would already be under one school board.

Tennis characterized the election as the most important, in regard to education, ever held in this community, and said that public interest should increase. At a recent hearing in Grass Valley, only 24 people attended.

No major change in school costs was contemplated under the new program, said Tennis, and economy was not a principal objective of unification.

William Wilson, high school principal, extended an invitation to the public to visit his institution next week, which is National Education Week.

C. G. Dana reported that he was at work in procuring a new door for the Chamber of Commerce office. Hugh D. Brown gave a detailed report of the chamber's financial condition. He said the books were in good order. Sketches of the Gold Country, a pamphlet about this area, was being sold by the chamber, he said, and he outlined the financial arrangement under which it is retailed by that organization.

Brown complimented Mrs. Virginia Levy on the excellent manner in which she carried on since the departure of Executive Manager Ray J. Kronemeyer.

Louis Hartman, retail trade committee chairman, reported that the merchants had unanimously decided to stay closed on Armistice Day, Tuesday, November 11.

Frank Munsee reported that his campaign to still the noise about Community Hospital had been crowned with relative success. He said Captain Joseph Blake of the highway patrol had told him that signs ordering quiet abou the hospital would be installed within two months. He read a letter from the city council. The council approved the ordering a quiet zone there, but said it would be impossible to reroute truck traffic.

Dr. Daniel Hirsch, president, presided at the meeting.

RUNAWAY CAR KILLS DRIVER

NEVADA CITY: A truck loaded with pipe went over the bank of Highway 40 yesterday morning about midway between the bridge and the foot of the Donner grade on the east side of the summit. The driver, Alvin Mendoza, 27, of Hayward, Alameda county, was killed.

Sheriff Richard W. Hoskins and Coroner Alvah Hooper made an investigation wihch indicated that the driver may have gone to sleep. The truck ran directly off the highway where it was steepest. The body, found beneath the truck, was badly mutilated. It was taken to the Truckee Funeral Home.

BRAKES FAIL, CAR CRASHES, MAN HURT

NEVADA CITY: David L. Lesher, when his brakes failed to work yesterday morning on the Downieville highway, pulled around the car ahead of him and ran head-on into a lumber truck driven by Fred H. Butz. Both Lesher and Butz are residents of North San Juan. The accident occurred a mile south of that town.

Lesher was taken to the Community Hospital in Grass Valley where he was treated for shock, bruises and lacerations.

As the Nugget went to press last night, an accord had been reached. It was decided to form a temporary county chamber of commerce and to elect a temporary president.

Square Biscuits, Yet!

I see by a neighboring paper, that the round biscuit is on the way out. Yes, sir, home-management specialists have found that the square biscuit lends itself to assembly-line production and easy storage better than those customary ovals.

Well, we're all for progress, but that's one new idea we just don't cotton to. A round biscuit, spread nicely amidships with snappy country cheese, looks like a biscuit! And accompanied by a mellow glass of beer, it's a combination that you can't improve on!

So at the risk of being called old-fashioned, I'm voting for round biscuits, that fit a hungry man's mouth like no square imitation ever will ... and for American beer served in the good old-fashioned way, in tall, cool mugs or ordinary glasses, with frosty sides and bubbles winking at the brim!

Think I'll step out to the kitchen for a snack right now!

Nevada County Long Ago -

By Floy Margaret Reynolds
20 YEARS AGO

Stockholders of the Nevada county bank at a special meeting were considering proposals for the sale of their stock to the Bank of Italy Corporation. The Bank organized about 1900 by E. J. Rector, B. S. Rector and W. A. Martin and a number of San Francisco bankers absorbed in 1920 the Citizens Bank, a pioneer institution dating back to the seventies. In the early part of 1925 G. J. Rector and E. M. Rector who had been at the head of the bank since the death of the elder Rector brothers, announced their desire to retire from active business and control of the bank at that time was sold to a local syndicate headed by Dr. Carl Jones.

The first in a series of lawsuits against the Nevada Irrigation District for alleged diversion of water was filed by Thomas Sheeman in Grass Valley through his attorneys E. H. Armstrong and F. R. Weke, Jr. The complaint charged that Mr. Sheeman had irrigated his large tract of land with 150 inches of water from Wolf Creek for over fifty years but that within the past year the N. I. D. had placed dams in the creek and diverted the water from his ditches so that he was unable to irrigate his lands. A perpetual injunction was sought.

Ridge of Grass Valley, and Alonzo Delans, a successful banker and valued citizen of Nevada County. Ridge, an educated half-cast Cherokee Indian was at one time connected with papers in Grass Vally, Marysville and San Francisco. He was author of a volume relating to the life and adventures of Joaquin Murietta, the noted California bandit. Alonzo Delano contributed to the press over the signature of "Old Block" and eventually his sketches were collected and published in book form with the title "Chips From the Old Block." It was through the publication of one of his private letters to a friend, describing some event of public interest in a masterful manner, that his writing talent was discovered.

The Harmony Drift Mining Company of the Nevada City district paid out $42,000 in wages during the year.

The Bear River Mining Company was doing extensive work on Bear River. A new elevator was being built near the railroad trestle.

Veterans News

California veterans whose secondary education was interrupted by the war may, in most cases, obtain high school diplomas by taking tests given at Veterans Testing Service agencies located in all parts of the state.

The Testing Service was established by the Veterans Administration in cooperation with the American Council of Education, the California State Department of Education and local school boards.

Veterans Administration offices will furnish interested veterans with the address of the nearest testing agency as well as information on procdures for applying for credits and diplomas.

The tests measure a veteran's general educational development sulting from his experience and resulting from his experience and armed forces. They also take into account informal or self-educational experiences contributing to his development.

In addition, more than a half million veterans have already received their diplomas through the testing system.

QUESTION: I would like to study abroad on a student-exchange basis. How can I arrange to do this?

ANSWER: Arrangements to study abroad on a student-exchange basis must be made through the Division of International Exchange of Persons, Department of State and not through Veterans Administration.

Emphasis is on general information rather than specific facts.

VA estimates that approximately 2,000,000 veterans in the United States had their secondary educations interrupted by the war and are eligible to apply for their high school diplomas.

Question: My grades at school have been low and I would like to know if VA will help me find a way to bring my grades up?

ANSWER: You may receive assistance of VA's educational and guidance service in an endeavor to correct those factors which may be contributing to your low grades. However, you will have to meet the requirements of the school if you wish to continue your course.

QUESTION: May a veteran, receiving disability compensation, receive at the same time substance allowance under Public Law 346, (GI Bill)?

ANSWER: Yes.

In 1916, the University of California College of Agriculture at Davis exhibited both the grand champion and reserve grand champion at the Iternational Livestock Exposition at Chicago.

THE - Diary of a 49'er

FROM THE BOOK EDITED BY C. L. CANFIELD

JANUARY 18, 1852.—It rained, snowed, and been disagreeable weather all week. The drift is s work, as it takes about half the time to cut timbers put them in place. Timbering is not a greenhorn's and we made a poor fist at it until we went over Coyoteville and took notes of the drift mines th We struck a rich little streak in the tunnel, not m than three inches wide and right on the bedrock. looked as if it had been poured out of a bag, it was regular. We panned it out and as far as we follow it we got an ounce to the pan. Altogether, we to out over twenty ounces. That is like old times.

Pard struck a bargain with me. If I would agr not to practice on the banjo when he was around I don't see why he don't like it for I can already pl "Old Bob Ridley" and "Camptown Girls" pretty w —he would read aloud to me a new novel that he h bought: "Nicholas Nickleby," by an Englishman nam Dickens. I had already read his "Pickwick Paper and it was a great book, so I agreed and the cons quence has been that we have not gone to bed a nig this week before midnight. Some of the chapters a very funny and some pathetic, but it is all interestin I am not very sentimental, but as I stretched out on th bunk listening, the big drops of rain pattering on th roof, the wind whistling through the trees and the fir light flashing on Pard's handsome face, I thought thi was a pretty good old world after all, and I was luck to be in it. Pard's voice was like a lullaby and I go to thinking of Marie and dreaming of the future. Per haps some day I might see London and Yorkshire an follow D'Artagnan's road through France. Then Par shut the book with a slam and said I was a lunkhead and he would not read any more to such an unappreciative fellow. He did not know what dream pictures I was conjuring up.

There have been no more discoveries about Ristine and Carter and it seems as if it would always be a mystery.

JANUARY 25, 1852.—It turned out cold and there has been a big snowstorm. The whole country is covered with snow three feet deep. It was a pretty sight, the spruce and fir trees loaded with snow, and when the sun comes out they sparkle like diamonds. It put me in mind of the hemlock woods in old Litchfield.

I got a long letter from Hetty, the first she has written in months, and now I am up a tree. She says that when the news came to her of her brother's death she was nearly crazy with grief and did not realize how harsh a letter she had sent to me. Now she is sorry for it, admits that she has been unjust and if I will forgive her we will forget all about it and be the same to each other that we were before it happened.

Football Focus

By JOHN McALLISTER LEWIS

"Hit 'em again harder, harder," the cry goes out as the American sports fan eats up one game after another. The season is well under way now and everyone has their favorites, heated debates are easy to get into and under-dogs as per usual are busy each week upsetting league leaders.

Speaking of upsets, last week contrary to most previewers, your reporter picked S. M. U. to down the Texas University power house. This they did to knock their fellow Texans down the list a bit.

The other upset we attempted to forsee was a victory over Oregon State by the still unanimously beaten Palo Alto contingent. We missed, but only by a few points. Anyway Marchie, we tried to give moral support to the cause against O. S. C.

Previously he had the Ilini labeled as the only possibility as far as downing Michigan. They came close but didn't quite ring the victory bell. So again we say buy your tickets early to the Rose Bowl game and see Michigan and the Trogans tangle in style.

West Point had little trouble defeating the famous old generals, Washington and Lee while the Naval Academy took it on the chin from the nations leading young group of Irishmen. It's quite obvious the cadets aren't as invincible as they have been in recent years but there is still a mighty fine football team supporting the Army mule.

When we picked Cal to beat U. C. L. A. the other day we were again correct only by a small margin. Fumbles in pay territory on the parts of both schools kept the large crowd from relaxing in the Los Angeles sunshine. Keep in mind that those fumbles were not coincidental.

U. S. C., undefeated and tied only by Rice early in the season forged ahead toward Pasadena by besting Washington. Three TDs spelled Washington remorse while the USC footballers showed multiple attacks. Now the severe test for Cravath's warriors will be in their stand against Notre Dame and UCLA.

Forecasts for the weekend

Army vs. Notre Dame (tie)
Ohio State over Northwestern
California over Washington
Yale over Brown
Harvard over Princeton
Purdue over Minnesota
Michigan over Indiana.

The maximum movement along the San Andreas Fault in the 1906 earthquake in California was 21 feet in a horizontal direction.
